April 27-29, 2012

at
Earth Sciences Auditorium, Quaid-i-Azam University
Islamabad
THREE DAYS CONFERENCE ON THE
EMERGING ISSUES OF SOCIAL SCIENCES
IN PAKISTAN
APRIL, 27-29, 2012

CONCEPT NOTE

Social Science disciplines have been very dynamic in terms of research and also providing guidelines to policy making sector. The dynamism in Social Sciences is deeply influenced from the changes in ground reality especially in the contemporary world such influences are broad and overwhelming as these stretch from the local to regional and from regional to international. The world has become so squeezed that any international or local development cause a shift worldwide such as the economic recession in the world economy has direct impact on the local economies of Europe, America, South Asia and other countries around the world including Pakistan which is going through serious economic crisis just to give an example, rupee devalued at the lowest in the previous weeks.

Similarly international war on terror has affected the security situation globally and definitely it has socio-cultural and socio-economic implications for the countries involved and even those which are not directly involved. The issues of security, terrorism, militancy, religious extremism, political crisis, institutional decay, security related issues, rule of law, challenges of foreign policy and the role of civil society are some of the key issues which are acute in Pakistan and the need of the hour is that social sciences research has to address and deliberate on such issues and come forth with tangible short and long term remedies.

Interestingly, Social Science is the science of the society which means that inherently it has to deal with the kind of challenges and issues which the society faces and that make it the core of research and deliberations of social scientists. Pakistan has a vibrant community of scholars representing various disciplines of Social Sciences including foreign scholars who are focusing on key issues related to Pakistan.

This conference is an attempt to bring together such scholars on a common platform to share their researches on various issues related to Pakistan at this crucial time when the country is faced with political, social and economic challenges and also had to grapple with issues of terrorism and deadlock in Pak-US relations. By holding this conference an effort is made to come forth with solutions that could help Pakistan out of the current crisis and to facilitate it moving in the right direction.
Basically the idea to hold a Social Sciences conference is in continuation of the last Social Sciences conference that was held in collaboration of HEC and University of Gujrat in April, 2011. In the last conference it was decided to hold next a thematic conference. So this conference is to showcase the emerging issues of the social sciences in Pakistan especially sustainable human development, the internal and external challenges to Pakistan, cultural diversity, human rights and civil society and the role of media. It is arranged by Quaid-i-Azam University in collaboration of the HEC, Social Sciences Committee, AIPS and Council of Social Sciences to promote social sciences research and also to provide guidelines to policy sector on key issues of the country. Last date for the submission of abstract is March, 20, 2012. After review of abstracts by the scholars committee, the selected participants will be informed by March 31, 2012. Local hospitality will be provided, however interested scholars are encouraged to secure travel funds from their own institutions.

CONFERENCE THEMES
- Sustainable development
- Internal and external challenges
- Cultural diversity and human rights
- Civil society and the role of media

OBJECTIVES OF THE CONFERENCE

a) To promote Social Sciences in Pakistan especially highlighting the research conducted by the local and foreign scholars on various issues of economy, state and society in Pakistan.

b) To provide an opportunity to local and foreign scholars to build intellectual linkages and project Pakistan as a moderate and peace loving country wherein efforts are underway to live in peace between them and with the world.

c) To provide guidelines and suggestions to the policy making sector so to help them to take country out of the current quagmire that has badly afflicted it at this critical juncture.
